REILLY'S STORY

Born during a bar fight in Devlin, Ireland, Reilly came into the world swinging. On the first day of his life, he lost an eye, took a man's life and developed an insatiable taste for whiskey. At the age of two, Reilly's father lost him in a poker game. Six months later, Reilly won himself back. And when he was three years old, prohibition hit the United States, and Reilly ultimately decided he couldn't bear the thought of Americans going thirsty.

Hell-bent and ready to rumble, Reilly hitched a ride on a whiskey boat bound for the dry nation to supply illegal spirits to the American people. Docked in a strange land and armed with nothing but a family recipe for Irish whiskey and a smuggler's wit, Reilly quickly organized a gang of misfits known as the "Black Eye Society" and took over the routes of the nation's milkmen. By cleverly disguising whiskey as milk bottles, they were able to deliver goods right to people's front doors—and just like that, the drinkers kept drinking.

By the time Reilly was a teenager, he had become an underground legend, with whispers of his name in back alleys and speakeasies across the country and songs being sung of his tales. The style of those songs inspired the rock and roll we hear today, blaring from the very pub that bears his name as we all raise a glass. Sláinte!

"Some Legends Never Die"

Rock & Reilly's opened its doors in 2011
and offers an assortment of reinvented
traditional Irish pub grub with modern twists for lunch and dinner.

Reilly's features an assortment of hand selected
Irish whiskeys along with a variety of beer, wines, and cocktails.

WHISKEY. PUB FARE.
ROCK & ROLL. DEBAUCHERY.

At Rock & Reilly's, we believe there's a little bit of Irish in all of us, and that's something to celebrate.

A BALANCED DIET IS A WHISKEY IN ONE HAND, AND A WING IN THE OTHER.

You'll find the largest selection of Irish whiskeys in Los Angeles, traditional pub fare with a fresh approach and roaring rock & roll every night of the week. And with a prime location at the heart of the world-famous Sunset Strip, you'll always find an excuse to keep the party going. So bring your appetite, your friends and your favorite Irish toast and let's drink to the nights you probably won't remember with new friends you definitely won't forget.

BRAND RECOGNITION IN MEDIA

Beckham's boys

By PageSix.com Staff

Page Six

David Beckham had a "low-key" boys' night out at Rock & Reilly's on the Sunset Strip. The soccer star, flanked by security, met up with his LA Galaxy teammate Robbie Keane and two male friends at the Irish rock 'n' roll whiskey bar for a drink before heading out to Michael Voltaggio's Ink for dinner. Later, Beckham and the boys were spotted back at Rock & Reilly's. A fellow patron overheard Beckham requesting that the DJ play the Stone Roses and Oasis, which "he sang along to."

Rock & Reilly's has been featured by hundreds of news outlets and generated over billions in total media impressions since its opening.
